

Horses
are Sensational

Let's Talk Tails

Animals are so different. And that goes for their tails too.

Animal tails come in all shapes and sizes, and colours and patterns. But they're not just all for show. They have specific jobs to do.

Beavers and dolphins... their tails help them move, and move fast, when danger is near.

Birds and kangaroos? What do they have in common? They use their tails for balance.

Crocodiles and scorpions use their tails as weapons.

Monkeys use their long tails to grasp branches while cruising through the trees.

How about our friend the horse? It puts its tail to good use too!

FLY SWATTERS... swish, swish, swat! Giraffes, cows and horses flick their tails to chase away bothersome bugs! Horses will work in pairs. Standing head to tail beside their friend, they swish each other's faces.
